$250,000 NEW GOLF CLUB LAUNCHED

SAND, WIND, AND GOLFERS flew, blew and stroked yesterday at Thunderbird Country Club during the second day of the $15,000 Invitational. Bo Winninger above, walloped a nice trap shot to within inches of the 17th cup, wound up ninth behind Jimmy Demaret and Dr. Cary Middlecoff, who are tied for first place at the halfway mark. Winninger later told threesome partner Demaret, "You go ahead, I'm just waiting to get to the clubhouse, and I like to gallery (watch) good golf."

Pulls Ahead After Tie Starts Day

Last 18 Holes of $15,000 Meet Scheduled Sunday

The battle for top money in the Thunderbird $15,000 Invitational, between Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, and Jimmy Demaret, the veteran from Houston, has lost some of its intensity after Middlecoff pulled three strokes ahead of the colorful old pro today.

They started the third round of the four-day star-spangled match at Thunderbird Country Club this morning, tied at 133, two strokes ahead of their nearest competitor, Doug Ford.

After nine holes today, Middlecoff was one-up on Demaret. The ex-dentist shot a two-under-par 34.

MIDDLECOFF'S front-nine round was not the best carded, but by virtue of his two-day score, he stayed ahead of Billy Maxwell and Bob Rosburg, who shot 33's on their first nine holes.

Maxwell had 142, and Rosburg shot 145 through yesterday.

Mike Souchak, recent winner of the Agua Caliente Open, scored 140 at the mid-way point, and this morning's one-under-par 35 gave him little chance to threaten the leaders.

IN THE PRO-AMATEUR division of the tournament, Jay Herbert of Sanford, Florida, led three amateurs to the half-way point Thursday, and was still in command after nine holes on the last lap. The leader of the winning team will receive top split of a $2500 purse.

Teams in so far this afternoon were led by Host Professional Jimmy Hines and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Texas. Those foursomes had best-ball of 117. Mike Souchak and Art Wall led second-place foursomes, two strokes behind.

TOMORROW'S ROUND will be the tightest to date, because Demaret will have to fight to get back within threatening distance of Middlecoff in the $12,500 72-hole event.

Middlecoff, recent winner of the Bing Crosby National, was four-under-par after 17 holes today, and showed no signs after three days of tense competition, of letting anyone get near him.

He seems a shoo-in for the big money, for he has proven that three days of bad weather don't hamper him at all.

Thunderbird's touring pro, Gene Littler, stroked back into form today with a nine-hole 34 after yesterday's five-over-par, which added to his first-round 66, gives him a 176 for 45 holes.

Bill Ogden, of Chicago, led early finishers today with 207, followed by Gardner Dickinson with 208.

THEY'LL SPEND $250,000 to build Indian Wells Country Club, about a mile south of Palm Desert. The group, from Thunderbird, are, left to right, Eddie Susalla, associate professional who designed the course and facilities; Mike Souchak, who will be their playing professional; Milt Hicks, member of the board of directors at Thunderbird; Desi Araz, television star;

Paul Prom, member of Thunderbird board of directors and Sacramento businessman, and Phil Harris, movie, television and radio entertainer. Other partner in syndicate, Errol Murphy, Pomona car dealer and Thunderbird member, was not available for picture.

Project by 6 Men from Thunderbird

Plan Envisions Lower-Cost Golf and Homes

Six men from Thunderbird Country Club, led by Sacramento businessman Paul Prom, actively went into the country club business for themselves today and saw the first of many operations that will eventually transform 160 acres of desert waste into an 18-hole course, clubhouse area, and 125 residence lots designed for low-cost homes.

Prom was the originator of the idea which has developed with today's bulldozing, into the Indian Wells Country Club, about 12 miles south of Palm Springs.

TOGETHER WITH comedian Phil Harris, television star Desi Araz, fellow Thunderbird board of directors member Milt Hicks, Thunderbird associate professional Eddie Susalla and Pomona car dealer Errol Murphy, Prom expects to spend more than $250,000 for the financing of the first section of project, the clubhouse and the front nine holes.

Mike Souchak, the whirlwind golfing ex-football star from Duke University, will be their playing pro, though he will continue his circuit tour this year, and possibly next. Souchak is presently in fifth place in the fifth annual Thunderbird $15,000 Invitational, and last week won the $12,500 Agua Caliente Open.

THE COURSE and lot layout was designed by Susalla. There will be 1000 feet of commercial frontage on Highway 111, and palm trees will surround the rolling terrain. The six men expect the nine holes to be completed by the winter season's end.

The group believes the club's homes-and-golf theme will prevent any competition or threat to the proposed municipal course up for bond financing by Palm Springs voters Feb. 14.

They also said there will be no threat to either Thunderbird or Tamarisk Country Club, because the homes and lots are expected to cost no more than $15,000, and the club will be operated on a semi-private, rather than exclusive, basis.

One of its golfing attractions will be bent greens, composed of rye rather than Bermuda grass. Hicks said there is plenty of well water and sufficient natural protection from wind to keep sand off the course most of the time.

The men will stay at Thunderbird, both as home-owners and participating and contributing members (except in Susalla's case since he is not now a member or a home owner there) and not devote all their time and money to the new club.

Burglars Take $20,000 in Furs and Jewels Here

About $20,000 worth of jewelry and furs were taken from the winter home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Adler of Chicago, last night while they were at a party at Deep Well Ranch.

Their butler, George Schaeffer, called police about 11 p.m. yesterday to report that he had returned from a movie to find the Adler home at 1255 Camino Amapola ransacked. Drawers had been emptied and wardrobes and closets disordered.

The victims told police that diamond and pearl encrusted platinum and gold ear-clips and pins, watches and other ornamental jewels, together with three mink wraps, valued in the neighborhood of $20,000, were missing.

Investigating detectives Capt. O. O. Johnson and Morrie Aitken said entry was gained after the service-porch window in the rear of the house, which had been empty since about 7 p.m., was forced and the catch broken.

Johnson and Aitken are dusting for prints, making casts of footprints, and questioning neighbors for clues. They have issued an all-point bulletin instructing other agencies to be on the lookout for the stolen property.

FLAGSTAFF
PARCEL OF LAND SOLD FOR INDIAN SQUAW

Either Indians or land was cheap in the early days, for in the year 1830 on the 24th day of December one Blas Lucero from Lower Ranchita sold to Juan de Jesus Vigile a certain tract of land, the consideration of which was one Indian squaw, mature, strong and healthy.

It is believed that this is the only case on record in Taos County where land was exchanged for human beings, the same being recorded in the oldest record book of Taos County, being A-No. 1 at page 82. Please do not rush as we do not know if any more squaws are available at the present writing.—Taos Review.

"LEAVE YOUR PORCH LIGHT on Tuesday night from 7 to 8 p.m., and contribute generously to the March of Dimes." This will be the night of the Mothers March in Palm Springs, Cathedral City, Desert Hot Springs and other Desert Empire communities. ## Entries Heavy on Last Day of Photo Contest

Entries for the first annual desert-wide photo contest sponsored by The Desert Sun poured in just before the deadline, midnight Thursday, January 26. Two hundred fifty-nine black and white prints, color pictures and transparencies were received by the Photo Editor.

Judging is scheduled at El Mirador Sunday afternoon or evening, although it may be delayed pending final word from W. E. Griffith, host of the Buck Rogers group which will convene at the hotel.

The group is composed of members of the Photo Dealers and Master Finishers Association of America. Griffith, in his first outline of the photo contest here, announced that members of the group he is hosting come from distant points in the nation, and will act as judges.

The winning entries, runners-up in all categories and those who receive honorable mention will be published in The Desert Sun. This task will be quite a big one and it is hoped that those who submitted pictures will be patient.

Tentatively it is planned to publish some of the winning pictures next Saturday. But in any event, publication will follow in later editions of this newspaper.

Family of Chicago "Wolf Pack" Beating Victim Under Guard

CHICAGO—The family of a teen-age gang victim lived under a 24-hour police guard today after receiving a death-threatening letter in the latest phase of juvenile terror here.

The letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Stevens whose son Donald, 18, is hospitalized with injuries from a beating with a fire wrench by a teen-age gang. Four teen-age boys are under indictment for beating the youth.

The letter, released by Police Capt. Phillip Breitke, said: "You've got one shotgun. We have three. You might as well order a coffin for your son now. I'M GONNA DRAW THE SHORT STRAW TO DO THE JOB."

The letter was signed, "The Future Killer of Your Son."

CHICAGO—A 17-year-old AWOL soldier confessed that he shot and killed a veteran Chicago policeman and wounded another in a nightclub gun battle, police said today.

Deputy Chief of Detectives Harry Penzin said the youth, identified as Donald Lawrence, made the confession to military authorities at nearby Ft. Sheridan, Ill.

The confession ended a grim, city-wide manhunt for the killer of Detective Lyons Kellner, 53, in a southwest side jazz spot. The killing was the latest outbreak of a juvenile crime wave in Chicago and was the second slaying by a teenager in 24 hours.

Reds Promise Allies 'A' Arms

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia—Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov hinted here today that Russia is ready to arm its "Red NATO" allies of Eastern Europe with atomic weapons.

Twining Foresees All-Atom Wars

CHARLESTON, S. C.—Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force Chief of Staff, said today the time is fast approaching when any war, local or global, would be fought with nuclear weapons.

He thus answered Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, and other Army critics who protest "overemphasis" on air-atomic power and say an East-West nuclear stalemate will make conventional war more likely than atomic conflict.

Ike Rejects Red Pact Plan; Offers One of His Own

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower today offered Russia a four-point "hand of friendship" peace plan in turning down a Red offer of a 20-year U.S.-Russian pact.

In friendly but unmistakable language, the President said Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's treaty proposal "might indeed work against the cause of peace."

Bulganin advanced his proposal in a letter delivered to Mr. Eisenhower Wednesday.

Mr. Eisenhower told Bulganin that the Soviet Premier's treaty proposal might create "the illusion that a stroke of a pen had achieved a result which in fact can be obtained only by a change of spirit."

Mailed Gifts to Chest Drop to a Trickle

The flow of letters returning advance gifts for the Palm Springs Community Chest is now a mere trickle of three or four letters a day, according to Frank Bennett, chairman of the campaign this year.

"This situation is quite startling," declared Bennett, "when it is realized that approximately 3,500 letters still remain unanswered."

He announced that a third and final letter seeking contributions is about ready for the mail, "and I fervently hope a great percentage of these letters will be answered," added Bennett.

MEANWHILE it was learned that final tabulation of contributions among mobile homeowners—a campaign concluded yesterday—is being made and although the exact amount collected is as yet unknown, "I believe that these citizens of our community responded with great spirit," Bennett said.

As of this morning Bennett said that the tally of funds collected so far in the drive amounts to a little more than $25,000, with a goal of $50,000 to be reached.

In the process of organization right now is the business-to-business canvass of the area, and that will be followed later by a house-to-house solicitation by workers.

AL SIROTT, owner of the Palm Springs Lincoln-Mercury dealership, has received a letter from officers of the Community Chest commending that organization and its owner for the fine civic stand he took in urging that support of the Community Chest be considered first.

PRESS STOPPERS

Trustees Set Policy Governing Leave, Transfers

Board of Education Thursday night set up policies governing maternity leave of absence and intra-district, inter-district attendance.

Leave of absence under the new maternity policy will give a teacher the right to draw $2 per day or the difference between her salary and the salary of her substitute during her leave period. The payment will be made for school days.

The trustees heard the first reading of the policy, and will adopt or change the provisions of the policy at a second reading a month from now.

The question of enrollment, attendance and transfer of students in this district has been solved under a policy which will make it easier for a student who is a resident of some other district, but living in this district for more than 10 school days, to be admitted to school here. This policy will affect children who may visit in Palm Springs with their parents for an extended vacation, and allow them to go to school.

Safety Slogan Set for School

School safety slogan announced for next week by George Bond, superintendent of transportation for Palm Springs Unified School District, is: "Look both ways before crossing the street."

The district has a different safety slogan each week, which is repeated by students as they board buses en route to or from school.

Your Children and You

The Yen to Run Away from Home

By LURA OAK

(Editors Note: Dr. Oak is a child psychologist, and a consultant in pediatric psychology specializing in diagnosis and therapy for normal children with learning difficulties. She resides in Palm Springs.)

The yen to run away from home is so common among young people in the teen ages as to seem quite normal. It appears to be nothing more than a symptom of intensified and perhaps uneven development and growth. With bodies suddenly grown large and mature and with stimulating emotions and desires stirring fiercely within them, it is understandable that young people at these ages become restless to take off from the home and from the control of their parents whom they suddenly consider "old-fashioned."

When the dramatic episode happens and Junior or his sister threatens to leave home or actually does flounce out, baggage in hand, even the most "modern" of parents is likely to revert to memories of early days. The chances are that he cannot quickly get command of himself and so resorts to an explosion of words, remembered all too well, because they are a sort of folk pattern passed from one generation to another for use on this particular occasion. Here they are:

"So you want to run away from home? Very well, young lady, get your bag and I'll help you pack!" or "Go ahead, you ungrateful so-and-so. That'll suit us just fine. After all, we've done for you, this is our thanks!"

THE FINAL TAUNT also is very familiar: "You'll be back. When you come crawling home, remember I told you so!"

If these are thought to be ennobling words, conveying just parental authority and righteousness and designed to correct the errant impulse to leave "this old house," the evidence is contradictory.

Case histories showing what happens next indicate that hostile words like these usually boomerang upon the parent, widening the breach between him and his fledgling whose own hostility and bitterness are forced below ground, possibly to smolder and erupt later on with surprising intensity.

In his heart the young person really does not want to sever home ties. His parents are hurt and distressed that he should consider it. This, then, is an occasion for parents to say what they mean and to mean what they say even if the child, in his turmoil, cannot. At no time in their years together will there be a chance like this to square their relationship for the years ahead.

THE CLIMACTIC moment of the "running away" episode poses a challenge to hold back the barrage of ready hostile words and to take time out for composing new ones more nearly appropriate. There is no formula for sure results but a few notes are at hand which have considerable merit if only to set us pondering.

Taking time out can be like a moment of silent prayer or like a rallying of all one's resources for dealing with the most delicate of situations. In any event, the surprise of a deliberate silence has the effect of relaxing tensions all around so that with a semblance of steady voice and a show of poise, one is more likely to communicate reasonably with the hostile young person.

Here is what one father managed to say as a beginning:

"We certainly don't want you to leave us, John. You are dearer to us than you know. We cannot imagine it here without you. If you feel you must go and you have a plan for getting along, tell us about it. Only, don't leave tonight. Put your suitcase there by the stairs. Your mother and I want to talk with you. Come in, son."

Trustees Turn Down Offer of Wading Pool

An offer by the Palm Springs Kiwanis Club to construct a wading pool at the Frances Stevens school was turned down by the trustees of the school district Thursday night, but an opening was left for further study of the question.

William Ford, president of Kiwanis, told the trustees that the organization wanted to construct a wading pool for the children of Palm Springs on the downtown school site because it is close and accessible to the children that would use it. Construction of the pool would cost approximately $1500.

Main reason for turning down of the proposition by the board hinged on the fact that the Frances Stevens school property lease did not allow any construction which is not educational.

The danger of the pool and the probable cost of supervision and maintenance that would have to be paid for by the taxpayers, were other important points swaying the trustees from accepting the offer.

COLONEL FREDERICK M. SPERRY, son of Mrs. W. J. Martin, 239 Arenas Road, recently arrived at Fort Polk, La., and is now commanding officer of the 1st Armored Division's Combat Command C. Colonel Sperry entered the Army in June 1931 after graduating from the University of Arizona. He is a holder of the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal and the French Croix de Guerre. ## State's Revenue Rises 11 Percent

SACRAMENTO — California's income increased by $62,893,000 during the first six months of this fiscal year, Controller Robert C. Kirkwood said today.

Kirkwood listed total income for the first half of fiscal 1955-56 at $441,600,853, an increase of 11 per cent. Expenditures totaled $444,975,009, he said.

Increases in tax revenues were received from the sales tax, liquor, bank and corporation taxes, and personal income taxes. Expenditures increased through higher appropriations to schools, bond redemption and aid to blind and aged.

New Semester Starts Monday at Palm Valley

Palm Valley School, private co-educational day school for grades five through 12, will open for the second semester of classes Monday, with a near capacity enrollment. J. Blake Field, owner-director, reports that a few vacancies exist in the various classes but that students have been enrolling every day during the past week and capacity is expected to be reached in the near future.

Once capacity enrollment is reached, students will have to be placed on waiting lists, Field said. Palm Valley School has become known for its specialized instruction, which features a maximum amount of individual attention to each student, both in the classroom and study room. This policy will never be changed, according to Field.

A full athletic program is also offered at Palm Valley.

The Sun In The Desert

By FRED C. WEIGEL

(Watching and reporting on the progress and accomplishments, trials and tribulations of the Desert Empire is a prime responsibility of The Desert Sun, and to this responsibility is added a prerequisite for all newspapermen, to inform the people. This column, dedicated to the entire Desert Empire, will discuss subjects of humor or displeasure, and enter into the study of the problems facing the communities of this area. This column will appear once a week on this page of The Desert Sun.)

One of the biggest questions facing residents of the Desert Empire today, is who will be appointed to fill the Fourth District Supervisorial vacancy caused by the death of Homer S. Varner?

Far ahead in popularity, insofar as the communities of Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage, Desert Hot Springs, Palm Desert, Palm Springs, Thousand Palms is concerned, is Rancho Mirage realtor Ted Smith, who announced some two weeks ago that he would accept the appointment, and that announcement spurred many civic bodies into petitioning Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to appoint Smith to the Supervisorial position.

THE CATHEDRAL CITY and Palm Springs Chambers of Commerce and the Palm Springs city council, have sent letters and resolutions to the governor. If Governor Knight follows along in an unofficial precedent set by former Governor of California and present Supreme Court Justice Earl Warren, it will probably be another month or better before word of the appointment is received.

With the vacancy on the Board, residents of the Desert Empire are watching with concern the actions of the Supervisors, for, with this district covering almost twice again the area as is contained in a total of all the rest of the districts of Riverside County, a mistake by the Board, unwatched by a local representative, could be costly to the desert.

THE DESERT SUN has increased its coverage of the county seat, and every week reports the actions of the County Board of Supervisors through its Riverside correspondent, Thelma Goodspeed.

Many civic leaders of the desert took questionable view of the action by the Supervisors early last month when they approved the ore reduction plant near Thousand Palms, and are wondering if the easiness of the action might spur the four-man board into allowing further questionable or even unwanted industry in the desert. William Jones, chairman of the board, was quoted by the press during the ore plant hearing as believing that Riverside County is in great need of more industry, and that the desert was a very good place for it to be.

Your columnist can find no harmful reason in allowing "good" industry in the desert area, but the precedent of allowing any industry may "open the door" to heavy, contaminating industry in the area. The chief market for the desert today is sunshine and fresh air, and it's a positive fact that with smog, rain and floods throughout California, that thousands of tour-

Scott's Store is Symbol of Area Progress

CATHEDRAL CITY — A small gift shop, facing the main thoroughfare of this community 10 years ago, today stands as a symbol of progress, taking its place as one of the leading mercantile stores in the Desert Empire.

Scott's Desert Wear, an emporium of western clothing of every kind, started out 10 years ago as a small gift shop and has grown under the capable direction of Ben and Fern Scott, into a store three times its original size, with customers, not only from this entire area, but from across the nation.

And Ben Scott not only built up his business in the past ten years in Cathedral City, but during the same number of years he has been very active in the local Lions Club, Chamber of Commerce, and this year became a member of the Cathedral City Area Business Association.

ists and visitors, many who will become residents, will swell the bank accounts of businessmen within the Desert Empire. This is a sufficient reason to keep the desert "the winter playground."

EAST OF INDIO, the past few years has seen a huge development of industry and farming, and the area is continually bidding for more. Of course, industry is of great importance to any county, and to this county it is important that it be put in the desert ONLY if there is no possibility that the desert will secede from Riverside and become DESERT COUNTY.

Officers of Desert County, Inc., have not given up their long fight to form a new county, and some day it may be a reality.

PREDICTION INTO THE FUTURE: Cathedral City, with meetings and counciling, will solve its problems in the question of whether to incorporate, annex, or form a special service district. A decision will be made and action taken on it by the end of 1956.

RUMOR WITH A FUTURE: The location of an aluminum plant in the Pass area has caused rumors to fly as to exactly where it will be. Also being rumored in the Empire is the location of a big motel at Whitewater, but news-men have been unable to prove or disprove it.

SCOTT'S DESERT WEAR, interior view of the new wing, built a few years after Ben and Fern Scott opened their gift shop in Cathedral City, displays neatly and categorically thousands of items for the customers. Ten years ago, the Scotts took care of the little gift shop that faced Broadway in the center tion. DURING WORLD WAR II Scott worked in the personnel departments of Consolidated ship yards and with Douglas Aircraft Corporation, and after the war came to this community to start in business. He is a firm believer that the main prerequisite of good business is a satisfied customer, and the growth and success of his business has proven this a good motto.

Fern Scott, who takes care of the women's department of the store, carefully checks every new item to insure the finest quality and workmanship, and in many instances models the new ensembles. Today, the store carries a complete line of clothing for men and women, boys and girls, including western clothes, sportswear, afternoon and cocktail dresses, blouses, sweaters, skirts and of course, a complete line of squaw dresses.

SCOTT HAS SPENT many thousands of dollars in advertising and promotion, and seldom does a day go by that he does not receive an order from somewhere in the nation for some of his more popular items. Scott said that in one instance the person ordered an item which is manufactured in the very town from which the order was sent. Items including ceramics, jewelry, belts, silver buckles, western and fancy bow ties, ear-rings and toys bring the store's inventory up to par with any leading mercantile store in the nation.

Western boots, ranging in varying prices, and play shoes offer a big attraction to local buyers.

BEN AND FERN SCOTT in front of their store in Cathedral City, think back over the years of progress for their mercantile establishment. Started some 10 years ago, the store is one of the most progressive western wear stores in the Desert Empire. Each takes a very active interest in the store and in civic activities. Early in February, the Scotts plan, with other local stores, to present a style show at the Wonder Palms Hotel. (Desert Sun Photo)

MISCONCEPTION ABOUT INCOME TAX — Many people are of the opinion that taxpayers in the high income brackets carry the largest share of the tax burden. Just because individuals with net incomes of over $100,000 a year have to pay 90 percent of it in income tax doesn't mean that the Federal government gets its greatest sources of income from these people. Quite the opposite.

It is the people whose net incomes run about $4,000 who pay the lion's share of national defense, foreign aid and agricultural subsidies. Uncle Sam collects about $21,761,000,000 annually from people whose net incomes do not exceed $6,000 a year. From the top income bracket group the total annual tax collected is only about $422 million.

Writing in the January issue of Fortnight magazine, Lawrence Fertig points out that the misconception still prevails that the so-called rich people have enough money left over after the present confiscatory tax rates to pay the bulk of any additional tax. "Every citizen ought to know how the Federal Government's income is derived," he says. "He ought to know how much various income brackets contribute to total personal income taxes — specially how heavy a tax burden each group bears."

Mr. Fertig gives a table of the estimated distribution of tax rates and yields for the fiscal year 1956, which he thinks should be wisely circulated to dissipate false ideas about federal income taxes . . . and should be studied by every college and high school student in the country. He comments on the statistics:

- (1) Only 16 percent of Government income derives from the progressive tax rates — the flat tax yields 84 percent. Most people are under the impression that the opposite is true. Plainly, confiscatory progressive rates could be sharply cut back with only a minimum revenue decrease. In fact, revenue might increase from greater individual incentive.
- (2) Despite confiscatory tax rates in the upper brackets the Government does not collect enough from this source to pay its expenses for many days. Even if every cent of the highest-bracket incomes were confiscated, the Government would not get a very large sum.
- (3) The Government gets over $22 billion out of a total of $29.4 billion from those earning up to $6,000 a year. This group has over 80 percent of the country's taxable income.

Most economists believe that the present Federal income tax structure is retarding the economy of the nation. It is a deterrent to business incentive and expansion.

It is going to be mighty hard to get income tax rates lowered but a revision in the structure is bound to come when public opinion demands it. That is why the suggestion is a good one that statistics on the Federal income tax should be studied by all our people — specially the students of the nation who will be the taxpayers of tomorrow.

(The table gives income brackets from $4,000 to $100,000 and shows for each the income derived from normal (20%) tax and the progressive tax (2% to 71%) tax. Fortnight, Jan. 1956.)

'PORGY AND BESS' — George Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess" is a gray-beard among musicals by now. It stepped before the foot lights for the first time way back in 1935 at the Alvin Theater in New York City. But the magic that it evokes, and the themes that it twines about musically, are timeless.

They are also universal in their appeal, as the American road show that is now touring the Soviet Union is finding out to its surprise and delight. The cast was nearly mobbed by the enthusiastic crowds in Leningrad. They were cheered on the streets and pursued by autograph hounds, in true Hollywood style. Their next stop is Moscow.

One of the members of the show apparently summed up the attitude of the all-Negro cast when he wrote to his mother in Georgia, "Gee, mom," he said, "it's all crazy."

It would be a cold audience that could sit through an evening with songs like "It Ain't Necessarily So," "I've Got Plenty of Nothin'" or "Summertime" and not come out of the theater all fired up. The Russian people, who are often as spontaneous and warm-hearted as their government is cruel and ruthless, found the music irresistible — although they were shocked by its blatant display of sex.

"Porgy and Bess" doesn't depict Americans as little tin gods, nor the United States as a paradise on earth. But it certainly presents both of them in a way that contradicts the distorted pictures that is painted of them by the Communist propaganda.

"Porgy and Bess" behind the Russians' Iron Curtain, are good-will ambassadors that can't fail to leave a warm and favorable impression of us with them.

ANAHEIM, CALIF., BULLETIN — It might be well for the public power forces to glance toward the State of Washington, long a citadel of their philosophy. Just recently the voters of Stevens county decisively rejected public power in favor of a private utility. The issue, briefly was: should the private utility buy out the public utility district operations, or vice versa? The question of rates did not enter into the picture. It was strictly an ideological question — private enterprise vs. public control.

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

If there's one thing that makes a motorist burn, it's the sign that warns him — Don't make a left turn.

It's interesting to watch the reactions of motorists when they come to a place like The Plaza or the Bank of America parking lot while headed north on Indian Avenue.

They can't turn in because of the "No Left Turn" signs. And it is difficult to figure out a driving pattern to maneuver their cars so that they'll be on the right side to make a right turn.

There just aren't enough streets in Palm Springs, and the blocks are long for those who figure on turning over to Palm Canyon, circling to the right and coming down Indian again.

And with our current traffic jams on PCD, by the time they get back to the lot, the bank is closed and they can't cover that overdraft.

That's why, I suppose, one man yesterday just got mad and bashed the sign.

STATE OFFICIALS, checking our traffic problems with the view to possibly installing signals, came up with an answer. They said there was no use putting them on the Drive because that was for sight-seers. Where the women window-shop as they drive along and the men sidewalk-gaze when the weather permits our famed casual attire.

Of course, many people are going to cringe at the mere mention of this—but wouldn't another street west of PCD be good?

To remove some of the load? I know it's impossible because of geographic limitations and the price of land. But it's something to dream about.

IF THEY HAD ONLY listened to the late Nellie Coffman. She told 'em when they first started improving the Village: "Plan for 100-foot streets to take care of all of the people who some day will be coming here."

It's too late now.

LIFE CERTAINLY runs around in circles. Just like race horses. Away back when—the day I started whipping a typewriter to start up sustenance, my first endeavors were on the sports side. And the newspaper which paid me once a week with no withholding or other deductions was known as "The Reckid."

It was down on Wall Street, Los Angeles. The outside pages were printed on pink paper and I was proud to acknowledge that I worked for the Reckid pink.

Now that I am what is laughingly known as "semi-retired," I am again doing a bit on the sports side. Asked for it to have something more to do to keep from becoming stagnant.

And yesterday they printed the sports pages on salmon-colored paper. That's a cycle—pink to salmon.

But the old Reckid had an urge for red ink. Those big red headlines on the pink paper sure looked garish.

Wonder how red would look on salmon?

WHEN WE HAD that little drizzle a week ago, Bob Linskey smart-cracked: "Our rainy season fell on Friday, Jan. 20, this year." Then look what happened this week! Should have kept his big trap shut.

KNOW YOUR BOND ISSUE

Proposition No. 3 DeMuth Park Addition

In the heart of the rapidly-developing south end of Palm Springs, where Indian Avenue, Palm Canyon and Ramon Road intersect and where Tahquitz Canyon winds down from the mountains, a triangular parcel of land has been beautified as a city park.

This land is in private Indian ownership, and is leased by the city on a five-year basis. The improvements which make the park a beauty spot—palm trees, lights, grass and shrubs, benches and drinking fountain, were purchased with money willed to the city for park purposes by Adolph DeMuth, a public spirited Villager, some years ago.

THERE IS NO contemplation of developing this little park for picnicking, playground, sunbathing, etc.—in fact, the City has installed signs pointing out that such facilities in abundance are available at Tamarisk Park and should be enjoyed there. However, as the city grows up around this area, and as more and more commercial development fills the space bordering scenic Tahquitz canyon, many people feel that it is of value to the city to have the triangular park remain a spot of natural beauty.

Since a five-year lease gives very little assurance that the park can be maintained there, the February 14 Bond election will place before the voters the question of whether the City should buy the park site at a cost of $150,000, $125,000 in the bond issue and $25,000 remaining in the DeMuth bequest.

THE BOND PROPOSITION on the ballot, if passed, will merely authorize a method of financing this land acquisition if it can be negotiated.

The city is not in a position to negotiate with the Indians for the purchase of this land unless financing can be assured in this way. However, no bonds would be sold and consequently no repayment would be added to the tax rate until such time as sales negotiation is completed.

Reports on Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — "The Day Lincoln Was Shot" on Ford Jubilee got in two hidden plugs for the show when LINCOLN was shot in the Ford Theatre . . . Ed Sullivan, because of the flop of Libera's "Sincerely Yours," has asked Warners to postpone his movie, "The Ed Sullivan Story," until they get a better script . . . One of Lucky Strike's new animated commercials shows a guy coming out of a store with a pack of cigarettes. Standing directly outside the store is a cigar store Indian holding several cigars . . . Buster Collier, son of the late, great Willie Collier, hasn't made a movie in 22 years. But he still gets fan mail. You can believe this, however, you fans: Buster isn't as young and as good-looking as he is in those old movies of his that you've been seeing on TV! . . . Add Useless Information: If you're going to England don't take your TV set. American sets are unusable because of the difference in electric currents . . . Hal March of The $64,000 Question is crazy-mad to get to Hollywood to do some movie acting . . . Telefilm cutter Bob Oberdeck tells me he always watches an actor's eyes in cutting film because the eyes express the spirit of the story. Lips, according to Bob, come second in the editor's search for a guide to the story line. . . .

I ALWAYS THINK someone has goofed when I hear Jello plugging SEVEN delicious flavors on the Johnny Carson show. Can't get the old Jack Benny days out of my mind—when they plugged SIX . . . That, of course, was before they added Apple Jello . . . Bing Crosby is going to Europe this spring so he and CBS have agreed to postpone his second commitment for a Ford Star Jubilee this season. His first commitment, "High Tor," in which he's the owner of a mountain on the Hudson River across from Sing Sing, will be beamed in March before the Groucher heads for the Continent . . . Eddie Cantor claims George Jessel is the fastest man on the draw in Hollywood. Says Eddie "He once drew two weeks' pay for a one-week engagement!" . . . Just for a gag, Gloria DeHaven appeared on Bob Yeakel's local amateur show in Los Angeles as "Peggy Holiday" and won first prize and two job offers from movie talent scouts. . . . Charlton Heston, who started on TV in 1948 in Chicago, earning $125 for his first show, won't go for a series. The time requirement is too much to assume. Chuck (Lilme: "I'm too anxious for stage and screen work to saddle myself with a TV series. You become too closely identified with one character, and that's a tough thing to shake. Look at Sgt. Friday! But I like to do single TV shows when the right scripts come along" . . . Eddie Albert, like Heston, is averse to a series because "there's no growth in them for an actor—you get rich and you work all the time! I'd like to learn to act a little more before I settle down and do a series. As for one-shots on TV, that's different. TV is willing to gamble and to do interesting things. TV is more audacious and versatile than movies."

Broder Crawford, on the other hand, says that one of the reasons he likes his "Highway Patrol" series so much is that he gets to ride around in a car in most of the films, whereas in other pictures (he does mostly Westerns when he makes movies) he either walks or is jounced on horseback . . . TV has found one answer to getting laughs: put a basket hound on the program . . . Dan Dailey has already started rehearsals for an NBC Spectacular that he'll do next January . . . Another Dan—Duryea—who has done 52 "China Smith" telepics and is now signed to do a series based on "The Great Mouthpiece."

It Happened Last Night

NEW YORK—Maybe I shouldn't say this, but I think Arthur Godfrey uttered a hunk of wisdom when he spoke that famous remark about TV stars needing "humility."

I left Dinah Shore recently, trying to fix the reason for her great popularity. I believe it's because she's so self-effacing.

"Gee, that Gisele's a good musician," she'd been saying, speaking, of course, of Gisele MacKenzie.

"Gisele says to me, 'You take the seventh,' and I say, 'Sure, I'll take the seventh,' and then if I get a chance I say to Ticker Freeman, 'Ticker, what's she talking about?'"

"Or if he's not around, I take one of the notes and TRY to hit it."

I think we can assume that Dinah knows a lot more about music than she'll admit, but at the time she made her story believable. It was the same when she talked about singing with Perry Como on the NBC TV show the other day.

"It's funny that I've sung with everybody but Perry," she said. "We sing in the same register, we've been on the same label for years, and I just think he's the greatest," Dinah added.

"Of course," she said, "I have to stand in line behind all the other girls when I say that."

You could mention Jack Benny, Como himself, and Jackie Gleason—who's always the fall guy for Art Carney—among the top stars who possess—if you'll pardon me using that word again—"humility."

Females on TV specially need humility because the ladies of the audience will tell you they hate nothing worse than a "stick-up dame."

And they always spot any snootiness instantly.

That gal from Nashville, Dinah, never lets any hint of it creep into her conduct.

Some stars will groan and lament to you about a hotel's bad treatment.

"The Essex House has been so wonderful," Dinah said almost in ecstasy. "We've had such fun there. They've changed my accommodations three times to make them better when they were fine already. That's the reason for my sleepy, mused-up look. I've been moving all the time."

I thought maybe I could get Dinah at least to knock the rehearsal headquarters here.

It was just a simple, unadorned room with some french fried potatoes that looked several hours old as the only decoration on a long table.

"It must be a lot better in Hollywood," I said.

"Oh, no," Dinah said. "Bur-bank's kind of plush, but I don't rehearse there. We have a studio about like this and I love it—and especially our crew."

On that note, I gave up finding anything unhumane about Dinah.

THE WEEK-END WINDUP . . . "DON'T PRINT THAT!" A former boxing champ faces a $100,000 lawsuit; during a playful wrestling match he dislocated a showgirl's shoulder . . . A noted singer is disturbed about the advertising campaign on his latest movie. He complains, "You can hardly tell I'm in it" . . . A one-time singing star can't get any TV work—he's blown up bigger'n Cinerama.

Roosevelt Zanders, a chauffeur to visiting celebrities, has cards that read, "Private Chauffeur to the Prince of Monaco, Nat 'King' Cole, 'Duke' Snider, 'Count' Basie and other royalty" . . . Sarah

Benny Goodman's audition for a band vocalist brought out a mob, including a Wagnerian soprano, aged 60, and an eight-year-old girl . . . The Harwyn Club was so crowded the other night that owner Ed Wynne had to give his own private party at a neighboring cafe.

Lillian Roth's movie, "I'll Cry Tomorrow," boosted her stock; Miami's Monte Carlo picked up her option—before she opened there . . . A music publishing house will be sued by a songwriter because they left his name off the sheet music . . . NBC's "Monitor" will do three pickups from the Hotel Algeirs in Miami . . . RCA-Victor will sign Audrey and Jayne Meadows as a recording team.

The Ames Brothers' newest record, "I'm Gonna Love You," is the first songwriting effort of Ray Passman, a stockroom boy at the Paxton Music company.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Some girls today don't care if a man fits the bill, so long as he foots it."—Pope Dreams.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Mickey Spillane, who writes those gore-and-gunshot murder mysteries, was described by Rene (York Inn) Plancher as an author with a 45-45 eyesight.

Washington Report

WASHINGTON—Russia is triggering a new bombshell in the war-periled Middle East.

This latest blow is aimed at U.S. strategic airbases in strifetorn Morocco.

The Soviet is setting the stage to stir up a turbulent clamor for abandonment of these crucial bases, by resorting to a 1906 treaty and demanding a seat on the International Conference on Algiers.

Representation on this body would enable the Kremlin rulers to meddle directly in the inflamed Moroccan situation.

Such conflict-breeding Red influence in strategic Morocco, lying directly opposite Gibraltar, would open the way to their outflanking the entire Mediterranean. Already Moscow is setting up the largest embassy in newly-independent Libya, located between Algeria and Egypt, and with a long Mediterranean coast.

This new sinister maneuver is among the major matters that will be discussed by President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden and Secretary Dulles next week.

Detailed information regarding it has come from two authoritative sources.

One is diplomatic, with extensive ties in Iron Curtain countries. The second source is an important Russian ambassador—Danil Solod, who was recently recalled from Egypt to become chief of the Near East-Middle Division of the Soviet Foreign Office.

Before leaving Cairo, Solod had a series of secret talks with 'Si Allal El Fassi, a top leader of the Moroccan Istiqlal (Nationalist) Party. In one of these discussions, Solod asked the following highly significant question:

"What would be your reaction if the Soviet Union, under the 1906 Algeiras Agreement, would demand a seat on the International Conference on Algiers, for the purpose of considering the independence and defense of Morocco?"

"What would be your reaction if the Soviet Union, as a member of this Conference, sought the evacuation of the American bases on Moroccan soil?"

El Fassi expressed "great interest" in these revealing Russian hints.

Note: In a talk with a diplomat since leaving Egypt, Solod expressed contempt for Egyptian troops. The Russian described them as, "merely men in uniform, and not real soldiers. They don't know how to fight. The Jordan Legion (British trained and equipped) is the only good fighting force that the Arabs have."

WHAT IT'S ABOUT — The Algeiras Agreement was signed in 1906 by 13 powers — among them the U.S. and then-Imperial Russia. Purpose of this treaty was to confirm French rule in this vital area, and to block attempts by Germany, then dominated by Kaiser Wilhelm, from gaining a foothold there.

Neither the U.S. nor Russia has ever sat on the Algiers Conference. France and Spain, with Moroccan representation, are the active participants. The French claim that in 1923, in exchange for recognizing the Soviet regime, the latter relinquished its claims to a Conference seat. The Kremlin now denies that.

Two sensational highlights feature the report from the authoritative diplomatic source. As presented to congressional leaders they are as follows:

(1) The Kremlin is deliberately trying to provoke war between the Arabs and Israel in the belief that will lead to chaos and revolution in the Arab countries; (2) which in turn will destroy British, French and U.S. influence, military bases and immensely valuable oil holdings throughout this region.

"These are the underlying objectives of the Soviet Union," says this extraordinary report, "and its leaders are exerting every means toward achieving them. They will leave nothing undone in this titanic gamble."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

PETER LORRE approached a pretty miss at a charity bazaar and offered her $10 for a kiss. She paled visibly and recoiled. "Come now," said Lorre, a bit nettled, "it isn't going to be that terrible!"

"I wasn't worried about your kiss, Mr. Lorre," the miss assured him. "I was just thinking of the fortune I gave away for free last night."

There was also the culture-conscious husband who took his wife to several modern art shows, symphony concerts, lectures by visiting savants, and a futuristic ballet. After the latter she finally spoke her mind: "Confound it, Herbert, why aren't you like all other husbands who never take their wives anywhere?"

"I can believe," a newlywed husband assured his bride, "that you baked these biscuits, but—who in tophet helped you lift them into the stove?"

Schillings Buy DHS Drug Store

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Keller, owners of the Desert Hot Springs Drug Store, announced the sale of the business to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schilling of Palm Springs. Mr. Schilling was associated with El Paso Pharmacy in Palm Springs as pharmacist. He had this position for the past eight years.

Before going to Palm Springs, Schilling was in business in San Fernando Valley and in Santa Monica.

The Schillings plan to move to Desert Hot Springs, and plan to remodel both the interior and exterior of the store here.

THE RT. REV. F. ERIC BLOY, who will officiate at Confirmation rites at St. Paul's tomorrow.

Rt. Rev. Bloy to Administer Rites Sunday

The Rt. Rev. F. Eric Bloy, the Bishop of the Diocese of Los Angeles, will be present to administer confirmation rites at the 11 a. m. service at St. Paul's-in-the-Desert Episcopal Church tomorrow, January 29. The Rector, the Rev. William A. Blonden Jr., will present one of the largest classes of recent years.

Following the service of confirmation, the Bishop will deliver the sermon to the new communicants and members of the congregation.

Each Episcopal Church, of which there are over 170 in the Diocese of Los Angeles, normally is visited once each year, either by the Bishop or his Suffragan Bishop. In the Episcopal church, confirmation is always administered by a Bishop acting under authority, following the custom of the Apostolic acts. At the time of Confirmation, Baptismal vows are re-affirmed, and confirmands are welcomed into the full fellowship of the Anglican Communion.

This past week Bishop Bloy has been presiding over the session of the 61st annual convention of the Diocese of Los Angeles, at which time clerical and lay delegates from Southern California have been shaping the policies of the Diocese for the forthcoming year.

Holy communion will be celebrated tomorrow at 8:00 a. m., and the Church school will meet at the usual hour of 9:15 a. m. The Youth Fellowship will meet for supper at the Parish Hall at 6:30 p. m.

The Power That Changes Everything

Some time ago, an acquaintance who is the manager of a large hotel came to see me. He had had a nervous breakdown a few years before and he was afraid that it was happening to him again.

I tried to talk to him about his problems and he told me about his business difficulties. The more we talked, the more involved it all became.

"I'm so tense," he apologized. "I had an idea, 'Bill,' I said, 'let's stop talking about him and her and that and that. Let's sit here and think about God. What do you think when you think about God?'"

"Well," he answered, "I don't think about Him very much."

"What do you think He is like?" I persisted.

He sat in silence for a moment. "He's big," he said. "He's like a man."

"Oh," he told me, "His face is big and strong." He paused. "But there is a kindly look on His face," he added, "and He has wonderful eyes."

"Have you ever heard Him speak?" I prompted.

"I don't know if I ever have," he replied.

Then I made a point: "Notice the effect this short talk has had on you. There is quietness and peace in this room and serenity on your face. There's the pattern you should follow. Center your thoughts on God before you lose yourself in your difficulties."

I was in that man's hotel recently. "What did you do to my manager?" the owner asked me. "What has happened to him? The staff say there's been a wonderful change."

I went in to see the manager and asked, "How are you?" "I'm having the time of my life," he said. "This technique of thinking about God is wonderful. I've learned to pray to Him. I'm almost afraid to ask Him for things. He gives them to me so quickly. I feel I have to be careful how I use this discovery."

He had never been a church member, but now, he told me, he is active and useful in his community church.

"This power I feel changes everything," he explained. "Never a problem comes to me but that I start thinking about God. I think about Him for a long time. And when I finally get back to the problem itself, it breaks into pieces."

The late Dr. Emmet Fox explained this when he wrote: "The more you can keep your mind off your difficulty and on God, the more easily the component parts of the difficulty will fall into their proper places." And then Dr. Fox went on to recommend: "Whenever you get into a difficulty, don't think about the difficulty, but instead think about God."

Whatever your problem, force your mind away from it. Start thinking about God, about His generosity, His mercy, His power. The problem will diminish and the solution become clear.

If you have a business or a personal problem, try this technique. Turn your mind to God and panic will leave you and peace will take its place. Fear will go out of you and faith will come in. Clear thinking will be possible, new insights will come and weaknesses will depart.

Try this method of bringing God into your problems and you will discover the power that changes everything.

Cowboy Evangelist Team to Have Charge of Sermon

A Cowboy Evangelistic Team from California Baptist College of Riverside will have charge of the 11 a. m. worship service of the First Southern Baptist Church of Cathedral City on February 5. This team is made up of 6 college students who go from town to town furnishing religious services for cowboys of Rodeo teams.

The service offered by this team is a very colorful and interesting one. It features special western gospel music sung by members of the team. Music is under the direction of Lanny Green. Gospel messages are preached by former Rodeo Clown Rideo Dennis Osuna.

Evangelist Osuna has a very special invitation to all Rodeo personnel and all others of the community to come and worship with us in this great service.

This service will be preceded by Sunday School for all age groups at 9:45. Anyone wishing transportation to this or any service of the church will be furnished free transportation by calling 8-4197.

The church has begun a Friday Evening study of the Old Testament. This study is being conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Glen T. Williams. The group meets at 7 p. m., Friday, for the study at the church.

The study consists of a study of all the books of the Old Testament, along with a special study of important characters and events. This is a very interesting and enlightening study and all are invited to come out and join in it.

Italian Dinner to be Served by St. Louis Monday

Under the supervision of Roger Pequenot, chef of La Quinta Hotel, the ladies of St. Louis Parish, Cathedral City, are preparing for their fifth annual Italian dinner to be served Monday, January 30, in the parish hall, B Street at Glenn.

Besides the antipasto appetizers such as salami and cecci, the main course will consist of spaghetti and meat balls with sauce a la Torinese and real Parmesan cheese to be added to taste. Crisp Italian bread and mixed green salad with chef's dressing will be served, along with beverage and traditional dessert.

Because of the overflow crowd at previous dinners, the hours of serving have been increased from 4 to 8 p. m.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

The traditional Family Nights at Thunderbird each Thursday... with two members serving as Honorary Chef and Honorary Maitre d'... are proving unusually popular this Winter... This week Joe Froggatt (looking real sharp in a pale pink dinner jacket) was Chef and Jim Tuma was Maitre d'... It was planned to be a Mardi Gras theme... and the diningroom was gay with vari-colored balloons and serpentine hanging in clusters from the ceiling... and the menu featured gumbo soup and shrimp creole... The members were supposed to masque... but the word didn't get around... so only a few made the gesture...

Met Alta Roberson in the Magic Shop late Thursday afternoon... both of us in search of a Masque... and we had the inspiration to glue long false eyelashes on to those little half masks... I think they might have been sensational... but we didn't get a chance to wear them... I did put mine on long enough to startle Judy Howard and Hoagy Carmichael... Hoagy said he didn't want his fortune told... which wasn't the reaction I was looking for...

Everyone was discussing the golf and the weather... The Leonard DeLues arrived in mid-dinner... It had taken her six hours to get here from Los Angeles by train... Our own hostess Maxine Stone had taken six hours to drive down... Enjoying the dinner and the dancing were the Tony Burkes... Sam and Beverly Taylor, Bob and Billie Kenaston, John Krysiaks, Marguerite Clatworthy, and Joe and Phyllis Froggatt, who crowded their house with around eighty for cocktails... Helen and Jack Kenaston who were supposed to be in our group, didn't make it... Ole Virus done got Helen...

Also in the gay crowd were the J. Ross Clarkes, Helen Worth, John and Gwen Costello, Emma Gale... Barney Hinkles, Harry Darts... Harrison Fishers, Leo Owens, George Dulaney, Gordon Prentices, Monte Herberts, Dick Hanouks, the Don Peglers of Omaha, who have rented the Joe Hale house... Margaret and S. P. Manasse, Peggy Lester... Ben Gage and a lot of golfers who had been out on the course since early morning... and were getting a little sleepy...

The Jerome Robinsons, who purchased the Flemings' Via Lola home completely furnished... have decided it doesn't meet their needs and are re-modelling... Arthur Elrod has been commissioned to entirely re-decorate it...

Evelyn and Sydney Schiff celebrate another anniversary tomorrow... and they will entertain around 25 friends at cocktails in the Mural Room at the Racquet Club... It will also give Sydney a chance to say "adios" as business calls and he leaves the next day for Chicago...

A plump little squirrel is startled by his menacing shadow... on the cover of the invitations... which Judy Howard and Robin Barnes have sent out for a cocktail-buffet... The pretty blonde hostess duo will entertain their friends at Thunderbird next Thursday evening...

Lou and Gene Austen and the Bill Murphys of Los Angeles... are the weekend houseguests of Elsinore Machris Giliiland...

Out of Navy
Dino Di Grandi, brother of B. A. Di Grandi of the Outpost Estates, arrived in Palm Springs Thursday morning after his discharge from the Navy. He recently came to the States from Honolulu where he spent the last months of his four-year hitch with the Navy. Dino was a semi-professional baseball player in his home state of Michigan and is scheduled for major league tryouts in the near future. He will be the house guest of the Di Grandis until called.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cohan have gone into Los Angeles on business and are staying at their Valley home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gillespie of Clearlake and Palm Springs are back for the Winter and have been entertaining friends from home, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Carter, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Florence Lovett has several out-of-town friends at her home this week. They include Mrs. Herbert H. Pagel and Mr. and Mrs. Al Schraeger, all of Beverly Hills, who will be here for a week.

Following the initiation and installation of officers refreshments were served. Miss Fraser then appointed the committees and held a general post-organization meeting.

The first meeting of the new Chapter will be a social one, to be held at 8 p. m. on February 7, at the home of Mrs. Fred Hillstrand at 551 South Calle Santa Rosa.

These weekly dinners are held before the opening of the new play in Palm Springs Playhouse. This week the group will see Edward Everett Horton in "White Sheep of the Family" with an assisting cast featuring screen stars Laura La Plante and Lillian Bond. Herb Rogers, producer, and Michael Ferrall, director, will present the regular members of the resident cast in other parts of the coming play.

Squaw Dress Style Show February 3

A presentation of the opulent 1956 collection of Alpha squaw dress originals will be given by Sunny Schriefer of Alpha Sportswear at Howard Manor, February 3 at 1 p. m. This luncheon showing promises to be an exciting preview of the interpretive squaw dress, which has become a basic fashion and a distinctive part in every woman's wardrobe. The many selections of materials, ranging through broadcloths, corduroys, nylon and imported georgettes, lend themselves to the unlimited color and design elaborated with everything from rick-rack bands to beautiful embroidered braids, and this season a feeling for the shine and glitter has been evident in the many gold and silver motifs.

The squaw dress has gained and held its growing popularity not only for its colorful complement to the wearer, but also for its durable and practical wearability. Emphasizing quality fabrics as well as authentic designs to enhance the individual figure Alpha has evolved sensational high fashion, inspired by the romantic Southwest, for the discriminating woman who wants "that certain something" in individuality. Square dancing has come to the fore as a national pastime and here again the squaw dress is delightfully at home, with its full skirt and graceful lines. Definitely, the squaw "has come to stay."

Commentary of the presentation will be made by Alys Walker and the ten lovely models wearing these down through dinner-dance originals are:

Lynn Jennings, Janet Harris, Ida Keeney, Barbara Schneider, Frankie Phillips, Shirley Larkin, Tani Boyle, Michelle Ailor, Suke Woodcock.

Wednesday Night Club to Install

Wednesday Night Club members and their ladies and guests will attend the Club's installation dinner to be held Monday evening at 7 o'clock at El Mirador, in the Starlight Patio and Klava Room.

Installing officer and speaker of the evening will be the Honorable William H. Freedman of New York City. Morris Teitelbaum will be installed as president, succeeding Mort Weisman. Other officers to be installed will be Harry Taylor, first vice president; Lewis Wagner, second vice president; Sam Kornfield, secretary; Irwin Coulton, treasurer.

Chairman of the entertainment committee, Abe Schwartz, has planned an evening of dancing and fun. Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. George Gillman will be in charge of flowers and decorations.

Former Villager Mrs. Halford Watson of San Clemente, and Mrs. Charles Edwin Karstrom of Evanston, Illinois, are spending a month here. They are occupying the Alice Campbell home at 637 North Calle Rolph. Mrs. Watson was a former home owner at Smoke Tree Ranch and plans to become a permanent resident again.

To save vitamins when cooking vegetables, stir as little as possible. Oxygen stirred into the food destroys the vitamins.

The top crust of a two-crust fruit pie should be folded over the lower one, then fluted. This will keep the juices in.

After three hours and no compliments on my new dress, my new hairdo or my old jokes, I returned to the starting point, shed the jewels and put back on my own pearl phony earrings. Suddenly the five attentive men were gone.

You know who your true friends are at a time like that. And you wouldn't trade that warm glow for all the glitter.

Mistake Hope Diamond for a Piece of Junk Jewellery

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK —(UP)—A girl can look like a million dollars, literally and men don't even notice. She can wear diamonds worth a king's ransom just once and discover that feeling like a queen is a state of mind. Phony jewels and true love produce it more easily than the Hope diamond.

This theory, long suspected by all women, now has been proven by one. A trusting diamond collector agreed to let me wear the Hope diamond, valued at one million dollars, plus a 31-carat diamond solitaire, two diamond bracelets and diamond earrings for a night out in Manhattan.

"You're not superstitious, are you?" the man from Harry Winston asked as he fastened the Hope diamond necklace around my neck. The rare sapphire blue diamond, bought by Winston from the estate of Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean, in 1949, has a hectic 300-year history and is reputedly a jinx to its owners.

"I'm not planning to buy it," I explained, and five unsmiling men with bulges under their breast pockets moved in closer. They were detectives.

The fabulous jewels, part of the Winston collection which the Buick Motor Division will display here and in four other cities at the General Motors Motorama, were taken from the vault of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in unimpressive manila envelopes.

BAUBLES AND BEAUS
Wearing $1,328,000 worth of diamonds tax not included, I walked through the Waldorf lobby and out onto Park Avenue. Five men and one woman stared at me. In fact they never took their eyes off me all evening. The woman had joined the five men detectives for a reason which became obvious a little later.

Other people glanced at the Hope diamond necklace and looked away. Obviously it never crossed their minds the jewels were real.

The head waiter at the Stork Club gazed at it without blinking. A few women at tables in the Club Room, an exclusive spot where guests should recognize glass when they see it, squinted briefly at the diamonds and then returned complacently to their conversations. You could see them dismissing it as good but really too flashy, don't you think? costume jewelry.

"Would you like to dance?" my escort asked. Five men followed us to the dance floor and surveyed the room through two rumbas, a waltz and a dreamy fox trot. Other dancers stood a few feet from the priceless jewels and paid no attention.

NEVER ALONE

After two hours as a mobile jewel display, I excused myself to go to the ladies room and the reason for the lady detective suddenly became obvious. When you wear the Hope diamond, you don't go off to powder your nose alone.

"This is a very eventful evening for me," Ann Saptagata, an attractive brunette with a pistol in her purse commented as she watched the door of the ladies room. "I've never been to the Stork Club before."

"Do you take off a 31-carat diamond before you wash your hands?" I whispered. Miss Saptagata said she knew of no precedent. I didn't.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK 48—Fearless Fraley's Facts and Figures:

PGA champion Doug Ford is in the golfing loghouse because, after snubbing the PGA dinner at which he was to be feted as "pro golfer of the year," he sent a curt 11th-hour wire breaking his two-month-old acceptance of an award at the New York golf writers' annual dinner.

"I am disappointed and greatly disturbed to learn of your last minute refusal after original acceptance," Ford was told in a wire by Henry P. Cowen, president of the MacGregor Golf company, which Ford represents. "Following a similar slight of the PGA dinner last month," Cowen added, "this can only lead to more strong criticism and bad publicity." The writers' award was accepted for him by Craig Wood, which means that instead of a Ford they had a pro Cadillac.

SPEAKING OF GOLF, Fay Cracker, the U.S. Women's Open golf champion from Montevideo, has been a pretty fair hand with the sticks "as long as I can remember." Proof is that Fay, now one of the lady professionals, as an amateur played in the Argentine championship 18 times, reaching the finals all 18 times—and won it 14 times.

And Harvie Ward Jr., the U.S. amateur champion, is taking back on his announced intention of giving up "serious" tournament competition. The Carolinian, who now sells automobiles in San Francisco, says he will take a serious shot at the Masters and U.S. Open—and "will do my best" in the amateur, also. His "best" figures to win it, too.

GOOSE TATUM, touring the country with his Harlem Magicians after breaking away from the Globe Trotters, says he has tallied 98,800 points since becoming a pro basketball player in 1942.

With 70 games remaining in a nation-wide tour, Goose, averaging 40 points a game, figures to just hit 100,000 points before his season ends.

M. O. Booth of Steekon, Calif., complains about the publicizing of Ben Hogan's 81 in the Bing Crosby Tournament on the grounds that it might make the "Bantam" refuse to take another shot at the U.S. Open.

ACTUALLY, AN 81 by Hogan is more newsworthy than a 66, which you expect from the little man. And I'm one of those rooting for Ben to take another shot at the big one for a record fifth win.

Oklahoma A & M tub thumpers claim that their 440-yard champion, Jess Mashburn, could beat Needles, one of the Kentucky Derby favorites, at anything from 100 to 220 yards. Silly boys. Needles has run 100 yards in 5.6 seconds and covered a quarter-mile—twice 220 yards—in 22.2 seconds.

Cherberg Fired as Husky Coach

SEATTLE 48—Johnny Cherberg, who couldn't win friends and influence his players, was fired last night as University of Washington football coach.

Athletic Director Harvey Cassill lowered the boom on Cherberg after 70 per cent of his squad turned against him. The ouster was effective immediately.

Though he was an alumnus of the school, Cherberg's removal was not a surprise. The controversy over him has raged openly since last November when 35 players, many of them first-stringers, asked Cassill to fire their coach because of his "tyrannical coaching methods."

University Vice-President H. P. Everest denied published reports that Coach Raymond Tay Brown of Compton (Calif.) Junior College has already been hired to replace Cherberg.

"There is absolutely no consideration being given to the hiring of Brown or anyone else at this time," Everest said. Cassill acted under the authority of the university's board of regents, which stepped into the boiling controversy after Cherberg fired Jim Sutherland, his playfield coach. Cherberg implied at the time that Sutherland was responsible for the dissension.

Cherberg told the regents he could quell the controversy. They consented to keep him, but on the condition that he either get his house in order or face the consequences.

Spieser Seeks Shot at Crown

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. 48—Chuck Spieser, the baldish graduate of Michigan State who held young Willie Pastrano to a surprise draw, asked for a shot at the light-heavyweight crown today "as soon as possible."

Spieser's body attack would have won an avenging decision over heavyweight Pastrano of Miami Beach Friday night in their return TV-radio 10-rounder had not the aggressive Detroitier tired in the late sessions.

Demaret and Dr. Middlecoff Tie for Lead

Pro-Am Second Round Scheduled for Action Today

The constant golf of the Memphis dentist, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, and death-grip putting of colorful veteran Jimmy Demaret, of Texas, took the two into a half-way tie in the four-day fifth annual Thunderbird $15,000 Invitational last night.

Demaret's putting, which took him to a first-day two-stroke lead, nearly put him in front of the pack of 42 of the nation's best golfers yesterday, but missing a three-footer on the 18th, giving him a 69 instead of 68, set him in a tie with Middlecoff at 133 each.

MIDDLECOFF SHOT a five-under-par 66 Thursday, and a four-under 67 yesterday. Today's golf conditions were considerably improved, but the dentist didn't seem to be too bothered by Thursday's rain or Friday's wind.

Two strokes behind the leaders was Doug Ford, the Professional Golfers' Association Golfer of 1955 from Kiamesha Lake, New York. Ford shot a 66-69.

The elements presented such a threat yesterday that about four hours were wasted, and there was no golf played at the plush club. When the strong wind showed signs of dying, the pros, who the day before had led foursomes of three amateurs each around in a best-ball Pro-Amateur extra event, teed off without their simon-pure partners, and played in all-pro threesomes.

THE LAST DAY of the scheduled two-day Pro-Am today will be followed by tomorrow's final round of the pro shooting for the big individual prizes.

The leading Pro-Am foursomes starting today followed the low-score group of pro Jay Hebert and amateurs Rak Kelley, Palm Springs; Fred Karlen, president of Thunderbird, and Ed Janss, of Coachella Valley. Their best-ball score was 54.

Leo Biagetti, pro from Sanford, Florida, and amateurs Bob Kenaston, F. C. McClintock and John Kovacevich were second with a first-day best-ball of 55.

DOUG FORD led amateurs Walter Funsinn, Bob Clark and comedian Phil Harris three strokes behind the leaders with a best-ball 57. There was a six-foursome tie for fourth place with 58. Defending Pro-Am leader is 1955 leading money winner Julius Boros, whose foursome had a 59.

Shelley Mayfield won last year's four-day all-pro event, and the $2000 share of the $12,500 Invitational purse. He has 142, nine strokes off the lead, going into the last half of the tournament.

Middlecoff is tied at mid-point of the $15,000 tournament with Jimmy Demaret at 133. Nelson is sixth with 139. Biagetti had a bad day yesterday and shot a 75 for a two-day total of 143. ## Aussie Ace Runs Second Fastest Mile MELBOURNE, Australia 48—John Landy of Australia ran the second fastest mile in track history today when he clocked 3:58.6 in the Victoria Championships at Olympic Park.

This marked the third time Landy ever had run the distance in less than four minutes. His feat today was six-tenths of a second slower than the world record of 3:58.0 which he set at Turku, Finland, on June 21, 1954.

Today's feat, witnessed by a crowd of 12,000, was regarded as the convincer in Landy's decision whether to compete in the Olympics. During the summer of 1954, Landy announced that he "was very sluggish at the start but the last 150 yards were very pleasing. I never finished better."

Green Hornets Cling to Lead in City Basketball

The Green Hornets won a close once from Hinkle-Johnson in City Recreation Department Basketball League play Wednesday night to step back into the league's top spot.

Green Hornet's Bob Clinton scored 10 points to clinch the 30-27 victory and take themselves out of a tie with Hinkle-Johnson.

Indio defeated Chuck's Shell Station team, 40-35, to win their third consecutive out.

The game next Wednesday night will start at 7:30.

Standings: W L

Ceithaml to S. D.

SAN DIEGO 48—Unofficial reports said today that George Ceithaml, University of Southern California coach, would be named coach for the past five years, will become head grid coach at San Diego State College. Ceithaml's appointment will be announced Wednesday, sources indicated.

Nashua Withdrawn

ARCADIA, Calif. 48—Nashua, who had been nominated for the $100,000-added Santa Anita Handicap, has been withdrawn from the race. Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons notified Racing Secretary Jimmy Kilroe to have Nashua's name erased from the list of nominees.

JIMMY DEMARET, who has played golf with every muscle in his body for quite a few years, added a few when he tried to drop a 20-footer in on the 17th. He was satisfied with his low score of 133, placing him in first place tie with Dr. Cary Middlecoff (Desert Sun Photo)

RUSSIANS TAKE COMMANDING LEAD IN 1956 OLYMPIC WINTER GAMES

By CHARLES RIDLEY
United Press Sports Writer

CORTINA, Italy 48—Russia pulled away to a commanding lead in the 1956 Winter Olympic Games today with a world-record performance in 500-meter speed skating and another gold medal victory in the women's 10-kilometer cross-country ski race.

Evenly Grishin, 28-year-old Russian jeweler, shaved six-tenths of a second off the world 500-meter speed skating mark when he raced to victory in 40.2 seconds on Lake Misurina. He had skated the distance in the same time last Sunday but the feat was disallowed because of a technicality. Today's mark is expected to be recognized.

LUBOV KOZYREVA earlier had provided Russia with its first gold medal in this year's classic by winning the 10-kilometer (6.2-mile) women's cross-country ski race.

The hardy 37-year-old blonde made her way over the undulating course in 38 minutes and 11 seconds.

Lamberto Dalla Costa, a daring Italian air force jet pilot, guided his two-man bobsled to victory and provided his nation with its first gold medal in an event marked by a freak accident to brakeman Ed Seymour of the No. 2 American sled.

Seymour, who comes from Rochester, N.Y., suffered a dislocated ankle and severely torn ligaments in his right knee when the sled driven by Art Tyler struck a deep rut in the Cristallo curve and his leg was wedged against the sled shell.

FOR THE SECOND straight day American entries fared poorly. The best U.S. placing in the speed skating was a sixth by Bill Carow of Madison, Wis., despite the fact that he set a new American record of 41.8.

In bobsledding, the team driven by Bud Washond of East Hartford, Conn., placed fifth, while Tyler's sled was sixth.

The Soviet triumphs in speed skating and cross-country skiing, in addition to second and fourth placings in both events, gave them a harvest of 36 points for today in the unofficial team standings. Russia's two-day total of 46 points was more than triple that of its closest rival, Italy and Finland were tied for second with 15 points.

Johnny Werket of Minneapolis, Minn., tied for 11th in the 500-meter speed skating event with a 42.4 clocking; and Ken Henry of Chicago, who won the championship in the 1952 Olympics, could do no better than tie for 17th place in 42.8. Don McDermott of Englewood Cliffs, N.J., was tied for 25th place in 43.2.

The Riverside club said the local club could pick the date for the match.

Stanley Rosin, golfing chairman for the Palm Springs Lions Club, is looking for ten top flight golfers from the local group to meet a challenge hurled by the Riverside Lions club.

Rosin said that the Riverside club had picked its ten best golfers to meet a similar number from the Palm Springs club in a team match.

The final two rounds of the tournament were slated to be played at Barbara Worth Country Club in nearby El Centro today and Sunday.

Indians Humble Perris 91-34 to Remain in Lead

Jordan Sets New League Record with 43 Points in Single Game; Now Leads Loop in Scoring; Redskins Take Sixth Straight

By DAVID FISHER

Charles Jordan thrilled a large home town crowd last night by bucketing 43 points to break the Riverside County League one game scoring record of 42, while the Palm Springs Indians were crushing the hapless Perris Panthers 91-34. It was the sixth straight win for the Indians and kept them locked with San Jacinto for first place in the league.

Besides the R. C. L. record, two! Palm Springs high school marks were set. First, Jordan's 43 markers breaks the old one game scoring record by 13 points. Second, 91 points is the most an Indian basketball team has ever picked up in a single evening, the previous high being set against Perris in the last game of the 1955 season.

IN ESTABLISHING the new record Jordan made 16 field goals and 11 free throws and played his best defensive game of the season, getting his huge hands in front of attempted Panther shots and grabbing rebounds right and left. He was helped greatly on his race to the record books by Mickey Pellum, Bill Beck, Vic Reyes, Jim Goforth, and the rest of the local squad who did everything they possibly could to help Jordan amass his amazing total. Several times they intentionally missed free throws or easy baskets in order to get the ball to Jordan, who was tightly guarded by three Perris men.

IT WAS PROBABLY the most thrilling thing that ever happened to the Indians' great center, as with the sounding of the final buzzer he was hoisted on to the backs of his teammates and carried off the floor. The scene in the dressing room was one of wild jubilation with students, parents, and players milling around patting each other on the back and everyone trying to break through the crowd to congratulate Jordan, who by this time had been completely overwhelmed.

For the Perris five, it was their fiercest loss in a row and victory is still not in sight in the near future.

PERRIS SCORED the first point of the game when their high scorer, Fondreaux, pushed in a free throw. Jordan then picked up the Indians' first eight points and put them in front to stay. At the end of the first period Palm Springs led by a 20-10 score and the fact that the warriors of Coach Ralph Watt were going to trample over the mountain team became apparent.

The local hoopsters continued to roll in the second quarter, scoring 23 points to just 6 for the Panther quintet. After the half, even though Jordan pushed in only two baskets, the Indians still built their lead up to a 69-26 margin.

THE LAST PERIOD was all Jordan, as his teammates, realizing that the record was within his grasp, did everything possible to get him the ball. Their efforts were not in vain and the Indian chief was able to pick up 15 markers in the last stanza.

Mickey Pellum, the other half of the braves' big two, also did himself proud, by scoring 20 points. This kept his third place spot in league scoring intact.

A 60-43 VICTORY by the Palm Springs B squad in the preliminary tilt made the evening complete. The papooses ran over a tough Perris team to get back in the win column after two losses in a row.

Curtis Roberts picked up 18 points and Charlie Brown 17 to be the key men in the Palm Springs victory.

On Tuesday night the Indians will journey to Coachella and open up the new Arab gym. Next Friday Palm Springs returns home to meet San Jacinto in a game that will probably decide the R.C.L. championship.

Trade Needs Are Forcing Japan Toward Pro-Red Policy Review

Japan is about to make a sweeping review of its foreign policy.

New lines are to be laid for relations with the United States, Communist China and Soviet Russia.

There are hints in Tokyo that Premier Ichiro Hatoyama, as part of the review, would welcome invitations to visit Washington, Peiping and Moscow.

The review is to be made during the session of the Japanese Parliament which opened this week and continues until May 17.

There is every indication Japan's present close relations with the United States will continue.

But strong pressure is being brought on Hatoyama to enter closer relations with Red China.

Both he and Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu are on record as feeling that Japan's relations with its neighbor China are the country's No. 1 problem now. Relations with Soviet Russia are important also.

Japan's chief reason for considering closer relations with Red China is that it must maintain a big volume of foreign trade.

Its 90-million people are packed into four islands which cover only 141,529 square miles of territory. It lost Korea, Formosa and its other possessions as the result of World War II.

Premier Hatoyama is due to make an address on policy to the Parliament next week.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is to make a brief visit to Hatoyama and Foreign Minister Shigemitsu on March 18, on his way home from a conference of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in Karachi, Pakistan.

The visit is bound to be an important one.

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama today denied press reports that he had called for concessions on the part of Japan to speed an end to the state of war with Soviet Russia.

HOME WITH A VIEW

It's in Little Tuscany, of course. The sliding glass doors from the master bedroom lead to a private patio. The living room glass doors lead to another to take full advantage of the view. A flagstone fireplace spills out into the L shaped living room and dining area. This two bedroom, two bath home is designer built. There are walled, landscaped gardens just beyond the glass walls of the baths and marble (well, maybe not real marble) shower walls and the same "marble" is used for the free form pullman sink. This is a Little Tuscany home you can afford.

SAM SEZ:

WE HAVE AN important announcement to make, especially to our friends in the Cathedral City and Palm Valley area, and that is: We, the Desert Realty Co., have joined the new "Multiple Listing Service of Palm Springs" and we are the only members from the Cathedral City and Palm Valley area. Here's how we operate: We attempt to make real estate a more liquid commodity. Every exclusive listing with us is turned in within twelve hours to the Service. A copy goes to each of the 32 leading Palm Springs offices and their salesmen—putting 100 persons to work trying to sell your property. The listing owner receives a copy of the listing sent to other offices. If a member sells your property all 32 offices are notified immediately, this saves you, the owner, a lot of time and creates good will. This is the modern way of listing your property and getting results. Please remember also, that we are members of the Palm Springs Realty Board, the California and the National Real Estate Associations. We are bound by an ethical code which guarantees you the highest type of dependable and efficient service. To get Multiple Service submit your exclusives for not less than 60 days to this office. A non-member cannot submit your listing nor join in this service as a collaborator. Take advantage of this and see how it works. We need more listings on Cathedral City lots, homes, courts, improved ranches and raw acreage — and coast trades. We have clients waiting for sound property offerings. Many Palm Springs brokers use the Desert Realty Co. as a liaison office, bringing their clients to us for Valley properties which we are well acquainted with and in a good position to show.

Church Leaders Defy Synod to Support Unfrosted Minister

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Parish leaders rallied today behind the Rev. Victor K. Wrigley, one of two young Lutheran ministers unfrosted Thursday night on heresy charges.

Ralph Ward, a member of the church council at the Brookfield (Wis.) Lutheran Church, said "we respect Wrigley and believe in him." Other council members also plan to stand by Wrigley, he said.

If the church members continue to support Wrigley, they face possible legal action from the Northwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church.

The synod, in a special convention Thursday night, gave the Brookfield church three months to reconsider its decision or face the consequences.

The gathering of 155 Lutheran pastors and 98 laymen upheld last year's trial committee convictions of Wrigley, 35, and his friend, the Rev. George Crist Jr., 31.

IT REFUSED to take further action against a third minister, the Rev. John Geberding, 33. A trial committee censured Geberding but acquitted him of heresy charges last summer and he has since resigned as a minister and returned his ordination papers. All three ministers are ex-college classmates and held pastorates in the Milwaukee (Wis.) area. They were accused of denying certain scriptural doctrines, including the virgin birth and the physical resurrection of Christ.

Skies Clear But Another Storm is Forecast Soon

By UNITED PRESS

Most sections of Southern California were assured Saturday of a fine day to dry out. Skies were clear and sunny, temperatures were generally mild, and there were excellent snow conditions in mountain areas.

The fair weather followed a severe storm that began Wednesday and ended Friday morning. It brought flood conditions to several sections but was called a million-dollar rain in some agricultural communities.

ONE DEATH was blamed on the storm. So was a fire at the huge Ford Motor Company plant at Wilmington. Flood-weakened dikes gave way, and salt water carrying oil and gasoline on its surface entered the plant area.

The salt water apparently caused short circuits, which in turn set off the floating inflammables.

The Saturday forecast was for generally sunny skies but some cloudiness and possibly scattered showers in mountain areas. But the Weather Bureau warned the week-end respite might be followed by another storm early next week.

MEANWHILE yesterday's storm had moved eastward today and brought snow and freezing drizzles to the Midwest.

Two to three inches of new snow fell in Northern Minnesota Friday. Highways in mountain areas of Wyoming and Colorado were blocked or very hazardous because of heavy snows.

Freezing drizzle created dangerous conditions in Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota.

Rain fell in a band running north and south over the Mississippi Valley and the Eastern Plains and a drizzle dampened Missouri, Eastern Kansas, Eastern Nebraska and Southern Iowa. Other areas had normal weather.

Autoist Feared Slain in Desert

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies today feared that Kenneth R. Short, of North Hollywood, Calif., has been murdered and his body disposed of on desert wastelands.

Short has not been heard from since Jan. 20 when he was en route home after getting a new car at Flint, Mich. The car was found wrecked here earlier in the week. Authorities jailed David Cooper Nelson, 35, local sheet metal worker, on a kidnapping charge and for questioning in connection with Short's disappearance and the murder of another Californian.

FBI agents said Nelson's fingerprints were found in the car of Ralph Henderson Rainey, 48, of Santa Monica, Calif. Rainey was found shot to death on a New Mexico highway Jan. 10. Authorities said the suspect wrecked Short's car here while fleeing a patrol car.

Of Fish, Fire and Bally Girl Friend

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Leon Robinson got a six-month jail sentence for attempted arson after he admitted building a fire under his girl friend's bed because she refused to get up and cook some fish he had caught.

BETWEEN ROUNDS, golfers Gordon MacRae, singer and cinematographer, and Johnny Dawson, president emeritus of Thunderbird Country Club, talk over their action in the Pro-Amateur section of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational, with Mrs. Velma Dawson. At mid-point mark, MacRae and his foursome, led by pro Al Balding, were tied for sixth with best-ball of 60; Dawson and his foursome, led by pro Fred Hawkins, had a best ball total of 58, in tie for fourth.

House Leaders Agree on Tax Hikes for Roads

By UNITED PRESS

Democratic and GOP House leaders Friday agreed to support highway tax increases so the $41 billion nation road-building program can be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis. The tax increases are expected to range from $10 billion to $18 billion spread over a 15-year period.

Congressional tax experts predicted the new taxes will include a one-cent-a-gallon increase in gasoline taxes. Other tax increases may include tires, diesel fuel, trucks, trailers and buses.

Other congressional news:

INFORMATION: The chairman of a House information subcommittee warned the present trend toward increased government secrecy could end in dictatorship. Chairman John E. Moss' subcommittee is investigating information policies in different government agencies.

NATURAL GAS: Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.), a leading supporter of the controversial natural gas bill, said proponents of the measure have finished their speeches in the Senate and hope for a vote next week.

SEGREGATION: Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) said he has agreed to call a meeting of Southern senators to discuss the possibility of interposition by Southern states to nullify the Supreme Court's anti-segregation ruling. He said no date has been set.

SHIPS: Sen. William A. Purtell (R-Conn.) introduced legislation to give the Coast Guard more authority to inspect ships carrying passengers. His measure would extend inspection authority to sailboats as well as motor or steam-driven vessels.

Soviet Angling for New Summit Session with Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today Moscow apparently is angling for a new Summit meeting between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin.

It was understood the still-un-disclosed Bulganin letter to the President does not specifically request a Big Two conference. But the intent of the letter is clear. Officials declined to comment on whether Mr. Eisenhower would agree to meet with Bulganin this year.

However, the chances of a Big Two conference or a new Big Four conference are considered small. There is much against such a meeting: The poor results of the last Summit conference when the smiles were put away and the foreign ministers got down to business, the presidential election, Mr. Eisenhower's health.

Also, it is considered most doubtful that the United States would agree to talks alone with the Soviet Union.

That would play right into the Russian's hands. They want to split the United States away from its allies.

Red Conference Begins Work on Unified Army

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—The Communist military alliance gets down to work today on practical problems of coordinating its massive armed strength.

The eight Warsaw-pact nations and their associate, East Germany, launched the first meeting of the organization's political consultative committee here Friday. They denounced Western "aggressive circles" and the revival of West German "militarism."

ONE AFTER another, spokesmen outlined main points of the official Red attitude toward the world. They were:

The Communist nations want peace. The Western nations are trying to frustrate the world peace movement. They cited the creation of a West German army, equipped with "rockets, atomic weapons" and "the old Nazi general staff... under ex-Hitlerite generals."

A "NATIONAL People's Army" must be created in East Germany to offset the "West German militarists."

The inclusion of the East German army in the "Red NATO" is expected to get top priority on the agenda.

Benson Ignores Fire From 'Boner,' Aide Tells How Not to Handle Mail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson today ignored increasing senatorial demands that he resign because he endorsed an attack on farmers. But he freely admitted he "pulled a boner."

As Democrats howled for his scalp, Benson said he was "sorry" a letter bearing his signature was sent to Harper's Magazine praising an article called "The Country Slickers Take Us Again."

AMONG OTHER things, the article said farmers "got in the habit of handouts from the city dwellers" during the depression in the 1930's and now want the "dole" continued permanently.

A statement from Robert D. McMillen, assistant to Benson and generally known as his "right hand man," gave reporters this explanation:

LATE IN November, Benson received a letter from Horace A. Knowles, public relations representative of Harper's. It read: "Dear Mr. Benson: Support for your position on the farm surplus problem is given by John Fischer, editor-in-chief of Harper's Magazine, in the December issue. I thought you might like to see a copy of his remarks."

McMillen received the letter with the article with a large amount of other mail to draft replies for Benson. McMillen didn't read the article or the letter. He divided the mail and gave a batch to his secretary, Mrs. Peter Slagvold, a career Civil Service employee, to answer. Mrs. Slagvold got the Knowles letter and the Fischer article.

MRS. SLAGVOLD didn't read the article, but she wrote the letter to Knowles saying "it is excellent." McMillen initialed a carbon of the letter. The reply and the article were passed on to Benson's office for signature and mailing. Both landed on Shurtleff's desk. Shurtleff didn't read the article. But he signed Benson's name to the letter and mailed it.

Girl Talks Too Much, Saves 38 School Mates

STOWMARKET, England (AP)—A nine-year-old school girl was a heroine today because she talked too much. By speaking out of turn Kathryn Flett saved her 38 school mates from possible death or injury Wednesday.

During the arithmetic lesson Wednesday, Kathryn leaned over and began whispering to a classmate. Schoolmaster Philip Fisher caught her and as punishment kept the entire class inside when it came time for recess.

Three minutes after the recess bell rang, fragments of a jet airplane crashed into the school yard where the class would have been playing if Kathryn didn't like to talk.

3-Year Matusow Term Reversed

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has reversed the conviction and three-year sentence of former Communist Harvey M. Matusow for contempt of court, court records showed today. Matusow testified at the trial of Clinton Jencks, former president of the New Mexico International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, who was convicted of falsely swearing that he was not a Communist.
